The Government are the people responsible for running the country. The political party that wins the most seats at a General Election takes charge of the Government for five years, until the next General Election. The leader of the winning party is appointed as Prime Minister and chooses other party members to work in the Government with them - as Cabinet ministers and junior ministers.

1. Government refers to the group of people that run the country while politics refers to the process that this group of people follows to run the country. 2. The government's affairs are rarely interfered with by the influence of the common people whereas politics would involve more people apart from the political groups. 3. Government is limited in running the state while politics can also be found in education, corporations, and even religions.

Politics of the Philippines - Wikipedia

While the Constitution sets up the system of government, the actual way in which the offices of Congress and the Presidency are filled are based upon the American political system. Many countries have numerous political parties—groups of people who join together to try and win political office and thereby control the government—but the US exists under a two-party system.
